Election Tuesday

In each election there's a suggestion that it is the most important in history. It takes history's backward look to see things in factual perspective, but there is strong indication that this year's presidential election is one of unusual importance.

Seldom are the nominees so sharply separated in thought. Some Republicans regret that Barry Goldwater's conservatism has a radical quality that would take the country back farther than moderate conservatism wants to go, but at least it is conservatism, so that the voter has a choice between it and Lyndon Johnson's liberalism.

If the large vote forecast by the polls for Johnson develops in predicted volume, his administration can be expected to turn more sharply left, to use the power of government more forcefully, to tax more, to regulate more. He has indicated his thinking in his choice of a running mate, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, a far out liberal.

If the Republicans are defeated there will be a within-the-party scramble for leadership in 1968, with the ultra-conservative Goldwaterites assuredly active and in contest with more moderate elements of the party who were defeated in the San Francisco convention.

In Michigan the greatest question of the election is whether Republican Governor George Romney can get enough people to split their votes and re-elect him in a state which Lyndon Johnson is expected to carry in the presidential race.

Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, has conducted an active campaign but without much apparent effect. He has been seriously hurt, apparently, by the Detroit newspaper strike and he has sized up Romney's record of accomplishments in Lansing as so formidable that he has concentrated his attack on trying to couple Romney with Barry Goldwater in the hope that the defeat of the latter will drag down Romney too.

Mead lops In CHICAGO - Outstanding safety performance has earned Mead Corp. the highest safety award in the paper industry.

At a National Safety Council ceremony in Chicago today, the Arthur Hoyt Scott Safety Award was presented to Mead for its work in reducing accident frequency and for its community service in the field of safety.

In 1963, Mead's eligible plant locations had a combined rate of 4.08 disabling accidents per million man-hours worked.

Francis H. Wagner, director of safety for Mead received the Scott Award. According to Wagner's calculations, the drop in accident frequency rates at Mead's operations across the the country since 1945 represents more than 6,300 disabling injuries which have been avoided.

Mead is the nation's fifth largest producer of paper and paper products. The firm has 47 manufacturing operations in 19 states, including its Escanaba Division.

Pastor Attends Church Session

Pastor Gordon Thorpe of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Escanaba returned this week from the convention of the American Lutheran Church held at Columbus, Ohio.

The American Lutneran Church is represented at its bi-annual convention by 1,000 delegates, one half clergy and 500 lay members, representing its over 5000 congregations and 2½ million members.

Among items of interest to the general public was one regarding the relation between government and religion as it relates to compulsory attendance at services at Military academies. In the resolution adopted the Church requested Departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force to grant "cadets and midshipmen at their respective academies the freedom to attend available services of their choice in lieu of compulsory attendance at Academy Chapel services."

In another action on churchstate relations the convention recommended a policy statement that read as follows:

"Churches owning properties and conducting business not excusively and soley essential to their religious, charitable, or educational ministry ought to be subject to tax laws and policies equally applicable to those governing profit - seeking individuals, partnerships and porporations." Mrs. Thorpe also attended the convention as a visitor.

GEORGE ROMNEY

THE UPPER PENINSULA "PATTERN FOR PROGRESS" is a challenge to mankind's full utilization of its wealth and natural resources. Real progress will come with conversion of raw materials into productions of value. This means increased farm output, enhanced tourism and recreational facilities, more mining and processing, selective logging and industrial expansion — all designed for economic stability.

THE PATTERN FOR PROGRESS commenced when the Romney Legislature paid off a $105,000,000 indebtedness inherited from the previous administration. Further impetus to progress was given when a $50,000,000 surplus was established in the State Treasury. Mental health, Health and Welfare appropriations were increased by $11,000,000 over last year; School Aid was upped by $12.50 per student; Higher Education got a boost of $25,000,000 for fiscal 1964-1965; while capital outlay projects gained another $23,000,000.

THE UPPER PENINSULA PATTERN FOR PROGRESS deserves a Republican team to help Governor Romney keep Michigan moving ahead. The Upper Peninsula needs a Republican Legislature to re-write the Democrat-sponsored apportionment plan, belatedly ordered into effect by a Democrat-influenced State Supreme Court.

Be sure—vote for the party of performance—vote Republican

Why Don't More Women Vote?

NEW YORK (AP) - Women outnumber men in this country. but not at the polls

Tuesday's presidential election is expected to underline this fact of political life. Bureau of the Census figures for 1964 show that there are about 64.6 million men of voting age in the United States compared with 69.2 million women Yet if experience means anything, it is the masculine vote that will decide the election.

In 1960, with the population figures slightly lower but the sex ratio about the same, more than a million more men showed up to vote than did women.

This is progress. In the presidential election of 1920, the same year that women gained the right to vote, only about a fourth of the eligible women balloted.

Why don't more women vote? Researchers have come up How we with a variety of reasons for But you left us to remember. 1960's general 10 per cent difference in voting turnout between men and women. Mostly it boils

1,247 Delta County citizens urge you to...

Vote Democratic all the way

Senator Hart and Congressman Staebler pictured with President Johnson during the President's recent visit to Michigan.

Hart • Staebler • L.B.J

We are facing the most important election in 100 years...an election that will decide whether the United States and Michigan move forward or step backward. The choice is up to you.

On the national level: The choice lies between the responsible Democratic Administration of President Johnson, supported by such able leaders as Senator Phil Hart...or an administration of Republicans who talk first, think second, and would turn the clock back to the 19th century.

On the state level: The choice is between a conscientious Democratic Administration led by Neil Staebler, which understands Michigan's unmet problems and will co-operate with the Federal Government in finding solutions...or a Republican Administration which substitutes showmanship for leadership.

The choice is clear. That's why we urge you to join with us in working and voting for the election of Democratic Party candidates on November 3.
